

Hate Crime - Hate Speech Guide

This guide is to provide a clear definition of what Hate Crime is and types of hate speech.

HATE CRIME

The term 'hate crime' can be used to describe a range of criminal behaviour where the perpetrator is motivated by hostility or demonstrates hostility towards the victim's, race, religion/faith, sexual orientation or transgender/gender identity, disability (Offences (Aggravated by Prejudice) Act 2010).

These aspects of a person's identity are known as 'protected characteristics'. A hate crime can include verbal abuse, intimidation, threats, harassment, assault, and bullying, as well as damage to property. The perpetrator can also be a friend, carer or acquaintance who exploits their relationship with the victim for financial gain or some other criminal purpose.

Faith Hate Crime is when someone picks on you because you are a Muslim, or a Hindu, or a Pagan. If you are a Muslim who is a victim of hate crime, it's called Islamophobia. If you are Jewish (whether you are religious or not), it's called Anti-Semitic Hate Crime.

Homophobia as described by Stonewall is 'the irrational hatred, intolerance and fear of lesbian, gay and bisexual people.' It is negative attitude and dislike towards homosexuality, people identifying as being lesbian, gay, bisexual, or transgender. It is also disdain, prejudice, antipathy, hatred, or hostility, often based on irrational fear and ignorance, and it is often related to religious beliefs.

HATE SPEECH

Hate speech is any form of communication which expresses hate or encourages violence and intends to harass, alarm or cause distress towards a person or group based on something such as race, religion, sex, or sexual orientation.

The Police and CPS will enforce penalties for hate speech including fines, imprisonment, or in some cases can be both.

Homosexuality remains a sin and an unnatural way of sexuality. An immoral act forbidden by the Creator of the Universe - God... Human approval of such act does not make it permissible when we are all judged for our actions. We all need to REPENT & OBEY GOD! Peaceeeee!!!

Just wondering, being that the Qur'an and The Sunnah are the two things a muslim holds on to.

The best of guidance, is the guidance of the prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم

And the worst of things are innovations, and every innovation is misguidance and every misguidance is in the hellfire.

As الله the most high is my witness and he suffices as a witness, are you able to provide evidences from the Quran and Sunnah upon the understanding of the righteous predecessors that it is permissible to be homosexual?

The answer is no.

The evidence points otherwise. How can it be the case where the people Lut were destroyed because of this act. This act which is against the natural disposition of a human. Let us ponder some scenarios.

1. If the whole world was gay humans would be extinct which means only some people are allowed to be gay.

2. Men who have sex with other men are literally putting their private part in someones rectum which most people disgusted by. You cant have a baby that way and that is wear feces come from.

3. We get closer to الله on a daily basis. This act, is from the major sins

So on one side youre getting close to الله and then when you commit this lewd sin you are ruining your relationship with الله and going far away from your lord.

This, in reality is a mix of many things.

One of them is physiologic issues, waswaas, jinn and not being pleased with what الله who is watching you will you read this message has sent down.

This will never be acceptable. Never. I swear by الله.

It is upon the maker of this site to repent to their lord and go back to them. Especially while we are in Ramadan.

Allah has caused corona to spread. He has power over us. One blink and he can destroy us. And there is no happyness except through obeying his command.

Indeed, with the remembrance of الله do hearts find ease.

It is upon to suffice with the opposite gender. And this offers for more satisfaction than gay interaction.

We end with this amount and ask الله to accept from us
